

2,000 ARMED MEN SEARCH FOR NEGRO

Morganton, N. C., June 22.—(AP)—Burke county citizens and officers tonight continued their search of the hills and valleys throughout the county for Broadus Miller, negro, accused of having attacked and fatally injured 15-year-old Gladys Kincaid here, last night.

A crowd estimated at more than 2,000 men was still hunting through the woods near Nebo and Bridge-water on the supposition that the negro was in that section, but up to an early hour tonight no trace had been found of the hunted man. Several negroes were captured by the crowds or officers during the day but in every instance persons who knew Miller failed to identify them and they were released.

Will Berry, a negro with whom Miller boarded, is in the county jail here as an important state witness and possibly as an accessory. Berry was arrested after it had been reported that he had been seen driving Miller out of town soon after the girl was found in a woods near town with her skull crushed from a blow. The girl died at a local hospital early today.

While the crowd was searching on its own responsibility, Sheriff J. J. Haliburton of Burke county with a posse of deputies also was conducting a search. An effort was being made to find the negro and to spirit him to a jail distant from this section for safe keeping.

Governor A. W. McLean at Raleigh today talked by telephone with county officers and announced that he would offer $250 reward on behalf of the state for Miller. He also declared the negro an outlaw.

MRS. J. W. WADE, PIONEER OF CITY, FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. J. W. Wade, 102, a resident of Atlanta for more than three-quarters of a century, who died Tuesday morning at the home of her grandson, J. W. Wade, Jr., 224 Harrison avenue, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, The Rev. Samuel Cowan will officiate. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Funeral services will be W. H. Newman, W. E. Dunn, R. L. Tarbay, W. M. Smith, M. E. Benson and W. F. Biru. Mrs. Wade came to Atlanta in 1851 with her husband. He brought the first two locomotives to the city and for many years piloted the old "Texas" which now stands in the cyclorama building at Grant park. He died some years ago. Since that time Mrs. Wade has made her home with her grandson.

BATTLE IS RAGING ON TOBACCO TAX

Montgomery, Ala., June 22.—(AP)—The Alabama senate is in caucus this morning, heard the nuisance tax on cigars, cigarettes and tobacco protested by druggists, laymen, physicians and a minister of the gospel, representing every section of the state. The senate finance and taxation committee, in whose hands the revenue bill was placed Tuesday, invited the various interests to appear at the open session this morning and voice their complaints. The senate chamber was filled with members of delegations sent from many cities and towns of the state. The crowd was the largest that has appeared during the session.

P. G. Salter, wholesale druggist of Montgomery, was spokesman for the delegations. After a brief address in which he strongly opposed the nuisance tax, Mr. Salter introduced other persons whose protests were heard.

Georgia is cited.

R. D. Burnett, president of the R. D. Burnett Cigar Stores, of Birmingham, declared that the druggists were not trying to shift the burden but were endeavoring to equalize taxation. He said that he had an experience in Georgia in which it was clearly shown that the tobacco tax would not furnish the revenue expected. In Georgia, he said, the returns realized from the tobacco tax proved a great disappointment.

Dr. R. F. Lovelace, representing the Jefferson County Retail Druggists' association, declared that the druggists were, with the exception of preachers and doctors, nearer the people than any other body and that to pass the nuisance tax would cripple them. He said he had a petition with the names of 20,000 persons asking that the tax not be passed.

Samuel A. Wood, representing the Alabama Pharmaceutical association, said that the nuisance tax would lead to the domination of state tobacco business by mail order houses and would cause bootlegging of tobacco. He presented a petition from the association, which met in Selma, yesterday, in which the nuisance tax was denounced as an emphatic nuisance.

Labor Opposed.

J. L. Hurst, president of the Alabama Federation of Labor, asserted that he represented 35,000 laboring people in asking that the senate substitute some other measure in place of the proposed levy. "Labor is opposed to taxation for schools in Alabama," he said, but, as it will be the laboring man upon whom this tax will fall, we are opposed to it.

Others who appeared were: Dr. M. V. Gardner, pastor of a Troy church; Lawrence C. Lewis, of Tuskegee; W. G. Peterson, president of the Alabama store, of Birmingham; E. Roy Albright, of Mobile, and Dr. T. Q. Ray, of Andalusia.

The hearing continued throughout the morning session and the finance and taxation committee was scheduled to begin work on the bill this afternoon.

SALVATION ARMY FURNITURE STOCK REACHES LOW EBB

June brides and grooms from that strain of Atlanta's population which earn its bread by the sweat of its brow, and earn little more than enough for bread alone, have exhausted the reserve stocks of furniture contributed to the Salvation Army industrial department. It was disclosed by Staff Captain W. H. Range Wednesday.

Nearly a dozen young couples have set up humble homes out of the second-hand stores this month. They have furnished two and three-room flats for as little as $35, including stove, bed, table, chairs, rug and all the other essentials.

The industrial department gives temporary employment to stranded men, collecting, repairing and painting furniture which has outworn its service for its original owners, maintaining the industrial home from proceeds of its sale. The department will send for furniture, old clothing, rags or paper on telephone call to Ivy 2224.

KANSAS CONVICTS BESIEGED IN MINE

for the stigma of these plainest of men.

No Concessions.

The deputy warden declared he would make no effort to communicate with the men in the mine.

"They'll come out when they get hungry enough," he said. The only food the men had was that sent down the shaft to them for luncheon just before the mutiny yesterday morning. Twenty miles employed in the mine, however, are a potential source of food. In the mine mutiny last July the convicts threatened to slaughter the mules, but surrendered without doing so.

Electric lights to the mine have been cut off and the convicts have only a diminishing supply of carbide to furnish light. Extra supplies of carbide were refused them before they went down the shaft yesterday morning.

Demands from the convicts had been expected by officials when the mutiny communicated this afternoon. In a mutiny last July the convicts ordered that their demands, together with an official acceptance, be published in the newspapers and copies of the newspapers be thrown down the shaft so that they could not be "double-crossed" by prison officials. The demands were refused and the convicts starved out.

28 CONVICTS FOIL PURSUIT IN SWAMP

Huntsville, Texas, June 22.—(AP)—An all-day hunt of large posse of officers and citizens of Madison county over wet, soggy ground which hindered both pursuers and pursued resulted in the recapture of some of the 35 long-term convicts who escaped last night from the Ferguson prison farm.

Dogged hunt for the other 28 escaped prisoners continued tonight under the leadership of Walker Naylor, acting manager of the state prison system.

Men escaped by sawing a hole through the floor of their barracks and slipping out one at a time before a guard detected their action and prevented others from following.

MRS. M. R. TREADWAY BURIED WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude R. Treadway, 31, wife of W. L. Treadway, agency superintendent of the Insurance Company of North America, who died Monday night at the residence, 681 Juniper street, were held Wednesday morning from the St. Philip's cathedral. "Edna Thomas H. Johnston" officiated. Interment was in West View cemetery.

Mrs. Treadway was a native of Atlanta. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rolleston, pioneer Atlantans.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a 6-month-old son, W. L. Treadway, Jr.; a 2-year-old son, Merton; and James A. Rolleston, an aunt, Mrs. Bertha Rolleston, all of Atlanta.

O. D. MARQUETTE, HURT LAST SUNDAY, DIES OF INJURIES

O. D. Marquette, 52, died Wednesday morning at the residence on Hill-house street in East Point, as a result, it is thought, of injuries said to have been received in an automobile accident near Fort McPherson Sunday morning.

Mr. Marquette was removed to his home and was reported to be resting well until he died suddenly Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of A. C. Hemperley & Sons, in East Point. The body of his mother, Mrs. A. Marquette, who died on October 2, 1926, is also being held at Hemperley's establishment.

Immediately following the death of Mrs. Marquette last October Mr. Marquette instructed the undertaking establishment to keep the body until the weather in Independence, Iowa, was such that he could accompany the body there and he was preparing to leave the city during the latter part of June.

He is survived by his wife and an aunt, Mrs. Sue Marquette, of Independence, Iowa. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Marquette was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and served with the 49th Iowa volunteers. He was a member of the Theodore Roosevelt camp, U. S. V., No. 48.

THREE SLAYERS OF WARDEN ARE DOOMED TO HANG

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—(AP)—Three of the seven convicts who beat Deputy Warden Peter N. Klein to death at the Joliet penitentiary May 5, 1926, were sentenced to hang July 15, by the state supreme court today in denying their appeal for a new trial.

Of the seven slayers, three have escaped at various intervals and one was killed when he attempted to escape.

James Price got away the day Klein was murdered. Bernardo Roa was killed when the convicted men broke from the Joliet county jail last winter and James Shander escaped during the last attempt at breaking jail June 13. Gregario Rizo was killed in the last attempt.

Walter Staleski, Charles Duschnow and Robert Torrez are the three whom the supreme court decreed must hang July 15.

Forms Cabinet.

Bucharest, Rumania, June 22.—(AP)—Ioan Bratianu, leader of the liberal party, today formed a cabinet to succeed that of Prince Stirbey, resigned.

Bratianu becomes premier and foreign minister, while his brother, Vintila, takes the portfolio of finance.

KLAN DEFEATED 5 TO 1 IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, June 22.—(United News).—The Ku Klux Klan, once credited with controlling the political destinies of the entire state of Indiana, has come to grief again.

Indianapolis has capitulated to the opposition.

The Klan mayor, John L. Duvall, has been defeated through a referendum calling for institution of the city manager and commission form of government and is threatened with being ousted from office immediately before his term of office expires.

The situation here and throughout the state is in striking contrast to conditions which prevailed only a few years ago. At that time there were 400,000 klansmen in the state rallying to the call of their grand dragon, D. C. Stephenson.

The Klan was all powerful in those days. Klansmen "went down the line" for each other politically until they controlled mayors, city councilors and county officials and boasted that they had a strangle-hold on the state government.

Today D. C. Stephenson is in prison as a murderer and Klan dominance is admittedly on the decline.

The fight in Indianapolis signaled the Klan's last stand. It was defeated 5 to 1.

Triumphant for the first time in nearly eight years, the opponents of the Klan immediately set about making their victory doubly certain. Organized locally as the "citizens committee of 1,000," they called a meeting for Thursday at which they will plan their attack on the Duvall administration. At its last session the state legislature passed a law under which the Duvall administration would hold office until 1930. The citizens' committee claims that this provision, an amendment to the state city manager law, was passed after the time limit. Therefore, the committee contends, Duvall and his fellow office-holders should step aside immediately for the election of a city commission and city manager.

Duvall, William Buser, city controller, and Earl S. Garrett, market master, are awaiting trial on criminal affidavits in connection with alleged election frauds.

The citizens' committee hails the city manager referendum as a victory for the law-abiding, respectable residents of Indianapolis. The supporters of the committee believe that the election of a city manager will go a long way toward removing the conditions which they believe have smirched the city's name.

TRAIL OF HORROR FOLLOWS PARTY; LAWYER DROWNS

Rockwood, Tenn., June 22.—(AP)—A trail of horror, extending from a sudden storm on an artificial lake to the burning of the house in which a drowned victim's body was being transported was revealed today in accounts of the death of W. Glen McCluen, young Harrison attorney, near Mayland, Tuesday afternoon.

McCluen's uncle and father had narrow escapes from death ashore when a tree was blown down and fell between them.

A local undertaker was returning with the body when the hearse caught fire and burned to the ground. The undertaker was able to remove the body.

TOCCOA FLOGGING PROBE DEFERRED

No special term of court will be called in the northeastern circuit to investigate the recent flogging of Mrs. Ansley Bowers and others at Toccoa, it was learned Wednesday from Judge I. H. Sutton, of Clarksville. Judge Sutton said the regular term of the court will convene the first week in July and that a special term would not be necessary.

No comment was made by Judge Sutton on the flogging cases. He said he had been on a trip to the north and read about the floggings in the newspapers.

Mrs. Bowers was able to return to Toccoa Wednesday from the Downie hospital, whence she was taken for treatment after the flogging.

The whipping of Mrs. Bowers took place early Sunday morning, June 12. She was taken from her home by a band of 12 men. At a lonely spot near Toccoa, she was whipped with a leather strap. She declared that she was the only one of the Ku Klux Klan and it was on information furnished by her and her son that four men were arrested in Toccoa charged with the flogging. The men arrested were W. G. Acree, principal of the Eastonville high school; T. R. Lowery, foreman of a furniture factory; Charles Thomas, railroad employee; and Elmer Clark, railroad conductor. They were released under $300 bond pending action by the grand jury.

About two weeks prior to the whipping, a band flogged Mrs. Martha Finley and Elsie Williams and ran them out of Toccoa. About a month prior to that whipping, a band whipped Bart Singleton, a farmer. The women were whipped because of charges of "loose character." Singleton was whipped because he was charged with bootlegging, all charges being in current gossip and not made by any legal body.

The Stephens county grand jury will meet at Toccoa July 4 when the cases against the men charged with the whipping will be investigated.

Invitation Sent Lindy to Attend Publishers' Meet

Atlanta has invited Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to the city on July 4. The invitation was extended through the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association in a letter addressed to the air hero and signed by John A. Park, president of the organization.

The letter read as follows:

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, St. Louis, Mo.

In cooperation with Mayor Ragsdale, chamber of commerce and all Atlanta civic associations, I am urging you and your mother to visit Atlanta on July 4 to attend the meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association on invitation card mailed to you in Paris on May 23.

We hope you can accept and participate in the patriotic celebration in which 200 southern newspaper publishers and the entire population of Atlanta would have a part. Would appreciate answer care Times, Raleigh, North Carolina.

(Signed) JOHN A. PARK, President Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Mr. Park is publisher of The Raleigh Times.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB CAFE SHUT FOR WEEK

Because of interior improvement equipment under way at the Capital City club this week, cafe service has been discontinued until next Monday. While the work is in progress, facilities of the Atlanta Athletic club have been tendered to Capital City members, according to an announcement Wednesday by W. T. Timmie, manager of the Capital City club.

Fellow Workers Volunteer Skin To Save Friend

A story of personal sacrifice few would care to incur is related in the current issue of "Snap Shots," a trade magazine published monthly by the Georgia Power company for its employees.

Several months ago electrical department employees were engaged in "cutting out" a high-tension line when a vivid flame enveloped them, searing one man so that he died, burning away another's skin from his toes.

At death's door the latter, Harold Tripp, lingered at Davis-Fischer hospital. Efforts to save his life took the form of an appeal for skin with which to patch the injured man.

Four fellow employees responded, although the sacrifice entailed an operation under ether and several weeks recuperation in the hospital. They are C. E. Chapman, Henry Tugzie, Robert Plunkett and J. W. Smith.

Thanking his comrades, Harold Tripp is today alive, although still in a serious condition, physicians hold out hope for his ultimate recovery.

DUNCAN TO OFFER BILL FOR INSURED BANK DEPOSITS

In line with a number of bills that are expected to be introduced in the legislature this summer, Senator F. Duncan of the 33rd district, announced just after the opening of a new session of the senate on Wednesday that he has a bill to introduce in the next day or so that will require Georgia banks to insure their depositors against loss in insurance companies approved by the state superintendent of banks.

Senator Duncan lives just outside of Gainesville and stated that in the present senate he defeated his opponent, who is a banker, by running on the issue of requiring banks to insure their deposits. The senator is a well-known business man in his district, having farming, ginning and milling interests. He declared that he is of the opinion that the state should take steps to further protect the depositors in the banks of Georgia and that he should do it in such a way as to practically eliminate the possibility of any depositor's ever incurring a loss due to a bank failure.

The caption of the bill fully explains its provisions and is as follows: "An act to require the superintendent of banks to make up and furnish to all banks doing business under the laws of the state of Georgia, an approved list of insurance companies that will insure the deposits of such banks against loss; to require all banks organized and doing business under the laws of the state of Georgia to insure all their depositors against loss in one or more of said insurance companies; to provide a penalty for failure to do so and for other purposes."

ATLANTA'S LEAD
MOVE TO REDUCE CORPORATION TAX

A resolution asking for 3 1/2 per cent reduction in the federal corporation tax was introduced at the National Association of Building Owners, in convention at Detroit last week, by the Atlanta chapter through its president, Thomas W. Connally.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and referred to a committee for action.

Other Atlanta delegates had prominent parts in the proceedings of the convention and served on important committees. C. R. Palmer, of Palmer, Inc., was appointed chairman of the specialized building committee, and was also a member of the nominating committee. W. A. Jones was a member of the convention city committee, while Fred Shaefer had an active part in the work of the associated secretaries and of the convention.

The resolution, as adopted by the meeting and referred to various chapters for perusal, points out that since the government has been collecting more than $1,000,000,000 annually from the corporation tax, and since the current fiscal year will show a substantial treasury surplus, it asks that federal tax authorities "reduce the corporation income tax from 13 1/2 to 10 per cent, thereby reducing the cost of living and in other ways bringing material benefit to the people of the country."

WASHINGTON PORTRAIT TO BE LIMBED IN FIRE

George Washington will live again at Lakewood park on the night of July 4, when a giant portrait of the Father of Our Country will be displayed in front of the grandstand.

It will be one of the largest portraits ever seen in Atlanta, covering approximately 400 square feet—and it will be the more unusual because it will be done entirely in fireworks. Artists of the Theatre-Duffield Fireworks company, who are staging the pyrotechnic spectacle, have made the huge portrait for the Independence day celebration—which is announced as the greatest fireworks ever set off in the south. Traced from a famous old painting, the pyrotechnic portrait will be painted in lines of fire and in true colors.

Several comedy devices, a reproduction of Lindbergh's New York-to-Paris flight, giant spinning wheels, scores of rockets, bombs of many shapes and kinds and colors and many other new effects will be incorporated in the big display, which climaxes a full day of celebrating, including a championship auto race program in the afternoon.

BOY GIVEN 7 YEARS
ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Oco Roberts, 16-year-old white youth, of 70 Spring street, pleaded guilty Wednesday before Judge Virgil R. Moore in Fulton superior court in two cases charging burglary and was sentenced to serve seven years at the industrial farm.

He was charged with burglarizing the business establishments of The McGaughey Electric company and P. F. Collier & Sons. The value of the stolen articles is said to have been more than $200.

ATHENS OUSTER FIGHT TO BE AIDED SATURDAY

Athens, Ga., June 22.—(Special.) Lincoln, Ga., will be the scene Saturday of a hotly contested legal fight when three directors of the Southern Mutual Insurance company who failed of reelection at the annual meeting on June 7 seek to oust their successors from office in the first quo warranto proceedings filed here in many years.

John White Morton and E. R. Hodgson, Jr., are bringing the proceedings and in addition to their own places on the board seek the reinstatement of Chancellor Charles M. Snelling, also not elected.

In the election on June 7 Hugh H. Gordon, Jr., Congressman H. Brand and John E. Talmadge, Jr., were named to succeed Messrs. Morton, Hodgson and Snelling on the board, when several thousand proxy votes were cast by the company members present. The members of the board elected received 4,715 votes to 820 for those failing of reelection and it is claimed in the proceedings and they are a quorum being challenged as eligible members. Any policy-holder of the company is a member.

Secretary Griffith has issued a statement in which he states that a quorum of bona fide members were present at the election and that everything was done in a legal and proper way.

The company is one of the most successful mutual fire insurance companies of the country, is over 75 years old and at the annual meeting this year declared a dividend of 40 per cent. One year the company paid a dividend of 82 per cent.

It is agencies in Athens, Albany, Americus, Atlanta, Augusta, Barnesville, Brunswick, Cartersville, Columbus, Covington, Dalton, Eastman, Forsyth, Gainesville, Greenville, Griffin, LaGrange, Macon, Madison, Marietta, Milledgeville, Newnan, Quitman, Rome, Sandersville, Savannah, Sparta, Thomasville, Valdosta, Washington and West Point.

Judge C. J. Perryman, of the Toombs circuit, will hear the proceedings.

MOOR, MASONIC CLUB
PRESIDENT, RETIRES

An address by Edgar Watkins, prominent Atlanta attorney, on "Tolerance" and the presentation of a Masonic pin to N. R. High Moor, retiring president of the Masonic club, featured the weekly luncheon Wednesday noon of the organization at the Peacock cafe.

The speaker said that there are something like 87 varieties of protestants who are all seeking to accomplish one end—learning the truth about religion.

"No man is intolerant unless he is ignorant," Mr. Watkins declared. "It is not sufficient to be tolerant to friends, but we should go one step further. Be sympathetic, shake their hands and tell them that we are seeking the same end."

"Don't be content with merely hearing what they have to say but reason with them to accomplish the great understanding of religion. This is tolerance," he added.

The speaker was introduced by Robert H. Jones, Jr., and was given a big ovation at the conclusion of his address.

President High Moor expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the club during his administration as head of the organization and wished the members a pleasant vacation. It was the last meeting of the club at which he was to preside, the annual election of officers being slated for next Wednesday. As a token of appreciation for his services the club members presented him with a handsome emblem.

Reports of committees and other routine business concluded the meeting.

NEW GAINESVILLE MILL OPENS TODAY

Gainesville, Ga., June 22.—(Special.)—Thursday, when the Chipmunk mill of Johnson & Johnson Co. throws open its doors to the public, will be a notable day in Gainesville's economic development. Thousands of visitors are expected to attend the opening of the huge new mill, the erection of which has made Gainesville one of the outstanding industrial centers of the state.

The opening day program will be presided over by Sidney O. Smith, president Gainesville Chamber of Commerce. R. W. Jackson and Charles A. McCormick, officials of Johnson & Johnson Co., will speak, while an address will be made by United States Senator Walter F. George.

Ground for the new mill was first broken last November and the formal opening is approximately a month ahead of the original schedule. According to readjusted arrangements, it is thought that the mill will be turning out cloth by October.

The Chipmunk mill contains 40,000 spindles and will give employment to between 600 and 800 operatives. A 24-hour working day is to be put into operation, it is said. The main building is 934 feet long and 230 feet wide and is regarded by construction engineers as one of the finest buildings of its type in the south. Red brick is used for the outside construction, with white vitrified brick and white woodwork on the inside. Numerous windows and skylights give ample natural lighting facilities.

The Chipmunk mill site covers five acres and the company owns property immediately adjoining to the extent of 3,400 acres. This will afford ample space for expansion and development. The mill is located on the main line of the Southern railroad, between Atlanta and Washington, and on the Appalachian Scenic highway and the Piedmont Air route.

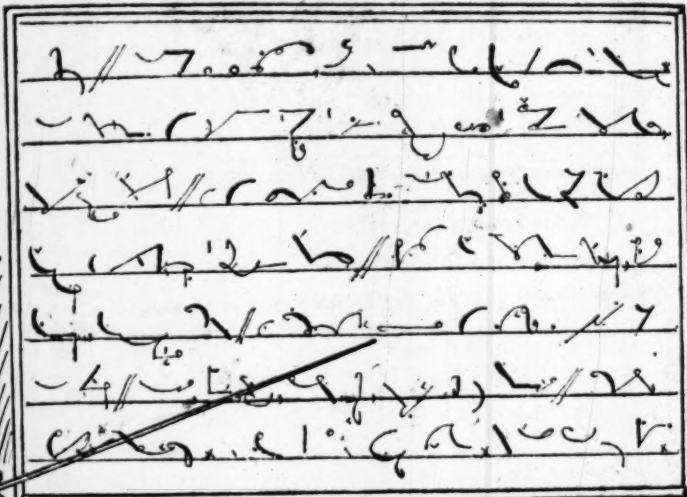

One of the interesting developments attending the opening of the new mill is the contemplated construction by the company of a modern mill village containing 200 brick veneer homes. Over 100 already have been completed and the foundations laid for the others. Each home, it is said, will be lighted by electricity and wired for electric stoves. All streets will be paved and modern sewer and water systems installed. Nothing will be omitted which would add to the beauty or convenience of the establishment.

In addition to the erection of the Chipmunk mill, the Johnson & Johnson company has opened an experiment farm in Hall county for the purpose of determining the adaptability of Acacia long staple cotton, which is in demand by the larger cotton mills of the country, to the soil of this section. It is said that if the experiment is successful the company will make plans for the immediate enlargement of the new mill.

Many Are Enrolling at The Southern Business College To Learn The Shorthand Which Reports the World

TRANSLATE THIS AND WIN A $120 SCHOLARSHIP

L. W. Arnold, Pioneer Shorthand Reporter and Teacher, Demonstrates the Beautiful Art of Phonetic Writing.

Learn Shorthand and become independent. The summer session of the Southern Shorthand and Business University is organizing. Vacation is over with many who are ambitious and are looking ahead—thinking of those good positions which will be open to the well-trained bookkeepers, the efficient stenographers and dependable accountants, secretaries and other educated office help, the coming fall and winter when business booms, as it surely will, and they are already enrolling at the Southern Business College for training.

The School of Opportunity. Young people are enrolling at the Southern because they know that the best systems are taught, the shortest and most up-to-date methods are used, and a large and capable faculty employed, thus enabling its pupils to save from two to three months' time in taking their courses of training.

Indorsed by Nearly Everybody. Young people are enrolling daily at the Southern because they know that it is the Business School which right out of every ten business men in Atlanta indorse and recommend to those inquiring for a genuinely good Business School.

They go to the Southern to learn shorthand thoroughly, to master bookkeeping in its most intricate parts.

Shorthand Valuable. Shorthand and bookkeeping are most valuable subjects—the knowledge of them is an open door to the better positions. Shorthand will not only double, treble or quadruple one's salary, but it is a disciplinary study. It makes the mind alert, active, keen. It gives power for accomplishment outside of its own field.

Promotion Rapid. The practical stenographer is constantly in close touch with the confidential and vital phases of a business and naturally learns much as he works. The secret of promotion is always found in preparation to carry responsibility, and the stenographer who learns the inner workings of the enterprise with which he is connected naturally acquires the power to accept and carry responsibility.

Shorthand Gave Business Men Their Start. Many of the leading business men of Atlanta got their start in the business world with the knowledge of shorthand or bookkeeping they learned at the Southern Business College some twenty-five or thirty years ago.

Superb Equipment. No other institution in the Southeast is so well equipped to turn out expert stenographers and thoroughly competent bookkeepers as is the Southern, and those young people who really want the very best training are requested to examine the facilities of the various schools and then to make an extensive inquiry among the big firms in Atlanta.

No Dividing of Time. Everyone connected with the Southern gives his whole time and energy to his work—not one member of the organization has any outside interests to absorb his or her time, but everyone has to work and does work earnestly and incessantly to make the Southern without a peer.

A Fine Student Body. And the student body—not a finer group of young men and young women could be found in America. All earnest, ambitious, refined and continually striving to sustain the Southern's enviable reputation of being a school of exceptional merit. They are too busy mastering the Southern's curriculum, which will prepare them for important business careers, to give any of their time to basketball, baseball, football, etc., even if they had the inclination to do these things. The Southern is strictly a Business School, and that's why its pupils learn and succeed.

A $120 Scholarship Free. Now, for a pleasant diversion. Can you read shorthand? If not, look up someone who can and get him or her to help you. To the person who sends in the best transcript of the shorthand notes shown above, the Southern will give a complete scholarship in Shorthand and Typewriting, or Bookkeeping and Banking, valued at $120. Now, send in your answers. Enroll now for the summer classes. Catalog free. Address, L. W. Arnold, President, 56 Whitehall street, Atlanta, Ga. Phone WA 8334.—(adv.)

HEARST DONATES $5,000 TO MUSEUM

J. Carroll Payne, president of the Atlanta Art association, received a letter yesterday from William Randolph Hearst, in which he agrees to become one of the founders of the High Museum of Art, of Atlanta, by making a contribution of $5,000. The board expressed its pleasure at the gift and elected Mr. Hearst one of the board of directors of the Atlanta Art association.

President Payne yesterday issued a statement concerning the endowment plan of the association in which he said:

"The Atlanta Art association, in order to enable it to operate, needs additional funds. Its membership dues are entirely inadequate to pay the current expenses incident to the upkeep of the museum and the cost of operation. It must be remembered that we have students who require competent teachers and the house and grounds must be kept in proper condition.

Seek $100,000 Fund. "We are desirous of raising an endowment fund of $100,000, the interest from which, together with the yearly dues, will at least enable us to function though not to expand as we should. Some twelve or fifteen years ago there were subscriptions obtained amounting to some $27,000, the object of which was to erect a building. When Mrs. J. M. High generously gave us a home, the old subscribers in large part considered themselves released so the work of raising money to enable us to operate had to be begun anew.

"We have never attempted what is known as a drive for many good reasons, but quietly have solicited subscriptions from a few. We have raised in this way almost entirely from members of our board of directors about fifty thousand dollars and a few days ago we were given a founder's subscription of $5,000 from William Randolph Hearst, of New York. He was in Atlanta a week or so ago and was asked to visit the museum. He was greatly impressed with the work we had done and what he had accomplished in a few months. He promised at that time to aid us in our effort to develop the spiritual side of our people and bring art to them so that they might learn to understand and enjoy the beauty of artistic things.

Assets for City. "Our school, teaching industrial and commercial art, is prospering and the young people who have the artistic and creative instinct may be taught to become valuable assets to this community, for work of this character is very well paid.

"It was a complimentary and liberal act on the part of Mr. Hearst to aid us so generously in our effort to give Atlanta an art gallery, of which one day she will be proud.

"It is to be hoped that those of our citizens who are interested in their city, who have the means to contribute and the inclination to aid in the cultural advancement of Atlanta will come to our assistance in raising this fund."

GRIFFIN TO DONATE $100,000 AND SITE FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE

Griffin, Ga., June 22.—(Special.)—Claims for the removal of Locust Grove institute, of Locust Grove, Ga., to Griffin were forcefully presented at a banquet and mass meeting held at Griffin Tuesday evening. The banquet was held at the Griffin hotel at 6:30 o'clock and the mass meeting of the chamber of commerce at 8 o'clock.

The trustees of the Locust Grove institute, representatives from the various civic organizations of Griffin, city and county officials, and citizens interested in the movement to secure a junior college for Griffin attended the banquet, over which Julius W. Gresham, as chairman of the entertainment committee, presided.

Judge Lucien P. Gaudin presented figures and facts setting forth Griffin's wonderful growth and future, and giving reasons why the junior college should be located here. Response to his address was made by E. M. Chapman, of Atlanta.

The mass meeting was attended by a large number of citizens who pressed their hearty cooperation in securing the educational institution for Griffin. Griffin has offered to donate the necessary acreage on a commanding hill site, and practically assured the visitors that $100,000 would be donated toward securing the junior college.

Florida Jewelers Meet. Winter Haven, Fla., June 22.—(Special.) A score of delegates gathered here this morning for the opening of the two-day convention of the Florida State Retail Jewelers association.

SORE ITCHING RASH FOLLOWED BERRY-PICKING Spread rapidly, but was checked at last and quickly healed.

Carrolltown, Pa., Aug. 19.—"One day last year after picking berries my hand began to itch very badly. I scratched it but did not bother to put anything on it. Finally the place became red and sore and began to spread all over my hand. Then I became alarmed and seeing your advertisement I sent for a sample each of your Resinol Soap and Ointment. After using these samples the relief was so great, I purchased two full size cakes of Resinol Soap and two jars of Ointment and continued their use until my hand was finally healed. I can never thank you enough for what your Resinol has done for me, and I hope that all who have skin trouble will try these products."—(Signed) Agnes Frederick, Box 17.

Begin today to use Resinol for Sunburn, Chafing, Insect Bites, etc. Ask your druggist for it. (adv.)

Women Are More Dependable Than Men, Says Mayor

Women are more dependable than men—that is those employed at the Atlanta city hall, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, who presides there, said so Wednesday when women employees of the city government had their inning in a "good will and better service" party given by the south's Gate City club executive. A total of 53 women and three men attended the event being held in the mayor's private office at the city hall.

Extolling the women for efficient discharge of their duties and declaring that no complaint during his six months' service as mayor has ever been launched against a single female employee, Mr. Ragsdale urged them to even better deeds.

"I have found women as a rule more dependable than men, and am glad to compliment you for your faithful service," the mayor declared. "This little meeting was called that we might know each other better and talk over problems over. I hope that I can be of service to you in obtaining for the people of Atlanta the highest and most efficient organization which the city government has ever known. This is an open forum session in which we hope to enlist the hearty cooperation of every person."

City Attorney James I. Mayson also delivered a short address in which he lauded the unselfish service of women employees of the city government and called on them to follow the advice of the mayor.

Several of the audience thanked the mayor for his invitation to meet and discuss business problems. Miss May Eneau, secretary of Chief of Construction William A. Hansell, and others discussed formation of a business women's club restricted to city hall employees. This probably will be done in the near future.

Carnations were given guests by Miss Evelyn Belmont, the mayor's private secretary, and refreshments were served.

3 GAME WARDENS FACE MURDER TRIAL

Norfolk, Va., June 22.—(Special.)—Efforts to obtain a jury to try the first of three game wardens charged with murder in two instances and felonious shooting with intent to kill in another as a result of the death of two game lodge keepers at Back Bay, Princess Anne county, last February, occupied the opening hours of Courtroom No. 2 this morning.

More than 100 prospective jurors had been summoned. Counsel are trying to wind up the case by tomorrow night.

The prosecution planned to put A. Floyd Mercer, game warden of Norfolk county, on trial first; he is to be followed by Federal Game Warden W. L. Birsch, and then John T. Capps, game warden of Princess Anne county.

The wardens are charged with the murder of Lee Waterfield and J. T. Bonney, and with feloniously booting Waterfield's 15-year-old son. The wardens came on Bonney, Waterfield and the latter's son at Back Bay about dusk one evening, asserting they found the party violating the game law. Firing started and the officers assert they shot in self-defense.

14,000 Kids Enjoy Parks Despite Rain

Atlanta may be all wet, but the spirits of nearly 14,000 youngsters is undampened.

Despite inclement weather of the past week, 13,932 of them waded through showers and enjoyed recreational facilities of the city's 26 playgrounds, according to official statistics released Wednesday by L. L. Wallis, superintendent of parks and playgrounds. Last week was the first of the 1927 summer play season in Atlanta and compared favorably with other opening weeks, even though recreation resorts were drenched with intermittent showers.

Adair park was first with 1,369 attending. A prize is to be awarded to the director of the park which this year shows the highest percentage of increase in attendance over last year. Last week Mosley park was first. Grant second and Forrest Avenue third in this contest.

Several entertainment programs are slated for today. Musical programs will be given at Adair, Maddox and Bessie Branch. A will have a miscellaneous program, a tacky party is in store for patrons of schools, an Indian play at Ponce de Leon and an Indian play at Ponce de Leon and a treasure hunt at Orme.

Friday a roll and pet parade is slated for Piedmont, stunts at Joyner, a Charleston contest at Hemphill, a dance at Courtney and treasure hunts at Exposition, Grant, Mosley, Dargan and Chosewood.

The orchestra of McClatchey park will play Saturday and a miscellaneous program is slated for Dargan and Howell.

HOT WATER SPOUTS IN SALVADOR QUAKE

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, June 22.—(Special.)—Huge fissures in the earth, emitting hot water and steam, are reported in the Canton of Carrazal, department of Cuscatlan, where earth tremors accompanied by rumblings occurred over an area of about two square miles. Houses are reported to have sunk, and some livestock was killed.

Add them' all together and Still Atlanta Leads

MORE new street cars are running today on Atlanta's streets than have been bought in the last six years by Birmingham, Jacksonville, Miami, St. Petersburg, Chattanooga, Nashville, El Paso, Fort Worth, Mobile, Raleigh, and Asheville combined. Since 1921 more new street cars have been placed in service here than in any city of equal size in the United States.

In the last six years, 203 new cars have appeared on Atlanta's streets—cars modern in their appointments, cars with swift "pick-up" and "get-away"—Safety cars. They represent nearly 40% of all the new street cars purchased in the entire Southeast during that time.

Truly these six years have been

For those who Travel

ABOUT this time o' year . . . every year . . . the lure to get away from where we are, and journey elsewhere takes hold of us.

Some travel afar, others find enjoyment at resorts nearer home, but every one does like to travel, and travel they will, for it provides the diversion and recreation that every one craves. Thrills come mostly from those things we hear much about but don't often see.

For women, the pleasure of travel is about ninety per cent clothes.

A man is known by the company he keeps and the luggage he takes.

Therefore, when a trip is planned, the first considerations are clothes and luggage. What a pleasurable thing it is to be well dressed and in the company of smart luggage!

Now for the CLOTHES!

Not one frock, but several . . . a different one for each of the many activities, depending upon how you divide up the day—and evening.

There are hats to buy, and shoes, and stockings, gloves, sweaters, hankies; besides the innumerable intimate garments that are essential to the trip.

It probably is true that much of the pleasure of a trip depends upon one being well groomed . . . properly attired for indoor and outdoor activities, to say nothing of the impression one makes on the people one meets.

A trip is a trip, to most of us, whether by steamer to a foreign land or a tour by train or motor car. It is the one opportunity we have to wear the attractive sport clothes that are not so much needed at home, but very necessary on tour.

If it is a family affair, then all must have the necessary apparel, of course. The tiniest tot feels the thrill of going away.

The Point We Wish To Make, Is This—

All these travel things, from luggage to tooth brush for children and grownups, are here—everything. You will not need to leave this store to supply the needs of man or woman, boy or girl.

If Europe is your destination, or the trip carries you no farther than the Georgia-Carolina mountains, many things are required which can be purchased at this store for as little, or less than you will find elsewhere.

The assortments are large. The styles are attractive and authentic.

WHEN the plans are made and you have decided the journey shall be made by rail, steamer or motor, the next step should be to this store. Take a stroll through the many departments, for only by so doing can you fully appreciate the length to which we have gone to provide all the requisites for a pleasure trip.

Smartness, not Leather

The Luggage Department, where every imaginable size, shape and style of bag or wardrobe trunk will be found. Many of the handsomest and smartest pieces you have ever seen.

Enjoy Your Sunburn

The Toilet Goods Department surely has your favorite perfumes and toiletries, as well as all the requisites for hair dressing, manicuring, the bath, and something to relieve sunburn.

Take A Dip

The Bathing Suits are on the second floor with the caps, wraps, sandals, inflated tubes, wings, etc.

Idle Moments—Read

The Book Department will provide you with all the latest fiction, and other literature that you will enjoy while away. Across the aisle, fashionable writing papers, diaries and other needfuls for correspondence.

The Finishing Touches

Neckwear, Hosiery, Bags, Handkerchiefs, Flowers, Jewelry, Umbrellas, besides a thousand and one other needfuls that are essential to the pleasure and comfort of a summer trip.

Browse around from one department and one floor to another. You will see many things that will contribute to the pleasure of your journey.

Put Your Best Foot Forward

The Shoe Department, second floor, is a magnificent salon, containing the newest and smartest footwear, you should not overlook.

Not Ocean Waves

Also, the Beauty Parlor, the finest and most complete in the South. A trip without a "permanent" would be no trip at all.

Not How Much, But How Many

On the third floor are the ready-to-wear departments containing the most gorgeous array of summer finery, especially appropriate for those who a-traveling go. Exquisite frocks for women, misses and children.

Millinery, Underwear, Corsets, and a department of Infants' Wear that has no equal in Atlanta.

Sporting Goods on the second floor. Golf, tennis, camping, tramping, boating, fishing—all the equipment for whatever games you play . . . and the correct apparel to go with it.

What's a Vacation Without a Man

Men's Clothing, Furnishings, Hats, Shoes—complete shops within themselves, each located for convenience and accessibility.

Furnishings, hats and shoes on the main floor with a special entrance on the Ellis Street side. Men's and boys' clothing on the second floor, immediately above, with a special elevator to connect these departments.

The Sporting Goods Department adjoins the men's clothing on the second floor. Complete in everything that well-dressed men require—especially for travel.

SPOTLIGHTING THE SOLONS

BY SAM W. SMALL.

A General Assembly That Looks O. K. in Personnel and Power for Service

The general assembly mobilized yesterday, not notably as "an army with banners," but rather as a corps of engineers to apply efficiency to the affairs of the state. In the corps there are many experts and they will have the chance during the session to show their statercraft to the profit of the people and to their own acting credit. It is repeat that in half a century I have never known in Georgia a greater opportunity for genuine, high-thinking statesmanship.

Holland has been made safe, progressive and prosperous by her dykes. May we not hope our senate has set up dykes to do the same for Georgia? The first legislature to sit in Atlanta assembled on this same hill, in the old red courthouse, 50 years ago on July 4 coming. It was a "black-and-tan" outfit, chaperoned by Major General Meade, of the United States army. Rufus Bullock was transferred from a provisional to elected governor, but he proceeded to "provision" about as greedily a gang of crooks as ever fed upon a state since the vultures ceased to picnic on the liver of Prometheus.

The house unanimously decided to "Russell" through the session under the leadership of a Baughman. But at that, its legislation is not likely to run all on one wheel. This "chip off the old block" will prove a mascot for the body over which he wields the mail.

It seemed like "good old times" to see the tall and attractive figure of

TETTER BROKE OUT ON FACE

Spread to Neck, Arms and Hands. Cuticura Heals.

"Tetter first broke out on my face and later spread to my neck, arms and hands. My skin itched and burned terribly, and when I scratched the eruptions would bleed. If I put my hands in water they would break out in blisters. The trouble was worse during the cold weather. I used different kinds of remedies but they did not seem to do any good. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Emma Johnson, Brownsville, Ky., July 21, 1926.

Keep your skin clear and your pores active by daily use of Cuticura Soap. Heal irritations and rashes with Cuticura Ointment.

The Personality of the Individual—intensified by distinctive jewelry.

Every American man and woman has a decided preference for the things they do, the things they eat, the things they wear. Every day, or many times a day, this individuality is expressed. The personality of the individual is intensified by the wearing of distinctive jewelry. Frequently a ring worn by an exquisitely groomed woman is a note which speaks her excellent taste in the choice of perfect accessories for her own individuality.

A fine watch worn by the man of affairs marks him as being a gentleman with a preference for elegant surroundings.

These things, apparently little in themselves, mean much. Choose for yourself fine jewelry which will intensify your personality and create about you that atmosphere of distinction... a tradition among Southern people for many generations.

"The Pink Lady" Sold Out Wednesday For Record Light Opera Attendance

All attendance records of the Atlanta Municipal Opera company were broken at the presentation Wednesday afternoon of "The Pink Lady" at the Erlanger theater when every seat in that house was sold. It was announced after the matinee by Lewis Haase, general manager of the company.

As the Erlanger theater has about 400 more seats than the Atlanta theater, where former seasons of light opera were held, the crowd Wednesday afternoon was the largest that has ever attended any production by this organization. Manager Haase wore a smile that wouldn't come off as he looked at the huge crowd moving slowly out of the theater Wednesday afternoon after filling the house to its utmost capacity.

"That's the greatest crowd we have ever had at any production of comic opera since the Municipal Opera company was organized," Mr. Haase declared.

Although the advance sale of tickets for the matinee Saturday is unusually large, there still are some seats available and all things indicate that another capacity house will greet the performance Saturday afternoon.

"The Pink Lady" is one of the most lavish productions of the series, according to C. Howard Chandler, president of the opera company, and not one cent was spared in making the production as perfect as possible.

Members of the cast in "The Pink Lady" who have already established their popularity here won much approval at the performance Wednesday afternoon.

The principals of the company are hard at work now perfecting themselves in their parts for "The Red Mill," one of the most successful musical comedies ever produced. This is a Victor Herbert composition and will be offered next week. This is the show which Dave Montgomery and Fred Stone won their first success and is considered one of the classics of the musical comedy stage.

GEORGIA LEGIONNAIRES CONVENE IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., June 22.—(AP)—Approximately 500 delegates and members of the auxiliary organization are in Savannah tonight for the opening session Thursday morning of the annual two-day convention of the Georgia department of the American Legion. Emory Bass, Valdosta, state commander, will preside. Joe M. Carr, Rome, is state adjutant.

Brigadier General A. C. Dalton, president of the United States Fleet corporation, who, with Mrs. Dalton, arrived in the city last night to spend a few days, was one of the honor guests and principal speakers at the dinner given tonight by the American Legion at the Oglethorpe club.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning General Dalton, accompanied by E. S. Trosdale, president of the South Atlantic Steamship line, local agent for the vessels of the shipping board; Raymond D. Sullivan, E. A. Jimison, district director of local shipping board headquarters, and Captain Frank W. Spencer, boarded the tug Miami and proceeded up the river on an inspection tour of the harbor.

Speaks Thursday.

Thursday's session will be devoted to addresses of welcome and responses, reports of officers and appointment of committees. It was announced tonight that Howard P. Savage, national commander, Chicago, who arrived today, will make an address at Thursday's meeting. Instead of Friday as originally programmed, Bradford McNider, former national commander and now assistant secretary of war, is on the program for an address Thursday.

He is said to be making the trip from Washington to Savannah by airplane, and his arrival is uncertain. The annual parade, in which the Marine band from Paris island, Confederate and Spanish war veterans, Georgia Hussars and other organizations and military groups will take part is ordered for Saturday tomorrow.

The social program began tonight with a banquet at Bannan lodge by the members of the "40 and 8," and a whole lot of healthy life.

Lt. Nussbaum denied any knowledge of a plot and appealed from the sentence on the grounds that she should have had a new trial.

MOVIE INDUSTRY SLICES SALARIES; MUST CUT COSTS

Los Angeles, June 22.—(AP)—The first economy move in the motion picture industry, which is predicted ultimately to have far-reaching effect, came today in the form of a 11 per cent cut in all salaries, which will exceed $50 a week, announced by Jesse L. Lasky for the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky organization.

"A serious situation has arisen in the motion picture industry," his statement said, "and we might as well face the facts. These are the fact: The net income from pictures is not sufficient because costs have mounted too high. The industry as a whole has been spending too much for what it has been getting, and as Paramount is concerned, we can go on this way no longer."

Lasky declared that his own salary and those of other officials were the first reduced, and added that the entire New York office staff had accepted the reduction.

GRADY MORRIS, 2, HIT BY TROLLEY, IS BADLY INJURED

Grady Morris, 2 years old, of 348 Kelly street, was struck by a trolley in a dangerous condition late Wednesday afternoon as the result of being struck down by a street car on Kelly street, near Woodward avenue, according to police reports. Doctors at the hospital fear that the child is suffering from a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

Cell Officers E. E. Brackett and M. D. Cartwright, who investigated, arrested W. E. Haney, 36, of 702 Melville street, operator of the car, on a charge of reckless driving of a street car. He was later released under a $200 bond.

Haney told police that the child ran suddenly from the sidewalk in the middle of the block, into the front end of the car and that he made every effort to bring the car to a stop before the accident occurred.

MORE SUICIDES ON PACIFIC COAST; 15,000 ANNUALLY

New York, June 22.—(AP)—The tendency to suicide is much more pronounced in the large cities of the Pacific coast than in the great centers of population in the east and middle west, states Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman in a statistical study prepared for The Spectator, an insurance journal. Dr. Hoffman is consulting statistician for the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

He estimated that there are some 15,000 suicides in this country annually. "Something must be radically wrong with our civilization," he concludes, "that so vast an army of men and women, young and old, rich and poor, white and black, should find the conditions of existence intolerable." He finds that the United States, nevertheless, "holds a normal position as regards suicidal frequency," when compared with other nations.

TRADES WILL AID ELEMENTS UNITE AGAINST BYRD HOP

Appointing a special legislative committee to confer with the organization's attorney and consider four bills aimed at loan sharks in Georgia, the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its regular meeting Wednesday night voted to cooperate with the Legal Aid society and other agencies in securing legislation at the present session of the general assembly to combat the loan-shark evil.

J. L. R. Boyd, counsel for the Legal Aid society, appeared before the federation to seek its support and explained the purpose of the measures. The special committee was instructed to consider the bills carefully and amend them in such particulars as might be deemed to the best interest of wage earners.

Committees from the chamber of commerce and the Federation of Trades have been working in close harmony to prepare the bills for the legislature. It was stated. The following four bills are proposed as needed to close loopholes that it is claimed now exist in the state laws.

First—An act to prevent the taking of usury under the guise of renewal sales of credit.

Second—An act to further regulate the business of making loans on wages or salaries, and the business of buying wages and salaries.

Third—An act to further regulate the assignments of choses in actions, especially the assignments of wages and salaries.

Fourth—An act to amend the small loan law of Georgia.

JESSE S. THRASHER TO BE BURIED TODAY

The body of Jesse Schafe Thrasher, 82, pioneer resident of Atlanta and a son of the late J. Thrasher, one of the first settlers in this section of the state, who died Wednesday morning at a private hospital, will be taken this morning at Chattanooga, Tenn., where funeral services and interment will be held today.

A native of Fulton county, Mr. Thrasher spent practically all of his life in the city. At the outbreak of the war between the states he enlisted in the services of the Confederacy. He served with distinction with the Seventh Georgia regiment under the command of General Robert E. Lee. He saw service in many of the major battles of the war. He was a member of the Walter P. Howell Confederate camp.

Mr. Thrasher is survived by five daughters, Mrs. E. M. Murphy, Mrs. E. M. Rogers, Mrs. W. J. Keith, Miss Elizabeth Thrasher, all of Chattanooga, and Mrs. M. T. Ellison, and three sons, Paul, Wilkes and Eugene Thrasher, all of Chattanooga. H. M. Patterson & Sons in charge of arrangements.

"GRANDMA" NUSBAUM DENIED NEW TRIAL

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—(AP)—Mr. Eliza "Grandma" Nussbaum was denied a new trial by the supreme court today and must serve a life sentence in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of her aged husband, Albert Nussbaum.

John Walton Winn, who beat Nussbaum to death with a hammer December 29, 1925, was hanged this spring. Edward Grant, a teamster, testified that the pair had plotted the murder but that Winn was not to murder Nussbaum himself, as Mrs. Nussbaum had said that "she could not love him if he had the old man's blood on his hands."

Mrs. Nussbaum denied any knowledge of a plot and appealed from the sentence on the grounds that she should have had a new trial.

STONE MOUNTAIN BODY ASKS RIGHT OF CONDEMNATION

Members of the DeKalb county delegation in the Georgia assembly, which opened its session in Atlanta Wednesday, will offer and press for passage a bill designed to authorize the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association to condemn property at the site in order to complete its task.

The paper would permit condemnation of "any interest upon the sides of or near Stone Mountain," in the county of DeKalb, in the state of Georgia, to be used in furtherance of the public and patriotic purposes of that association, as declared in its charter, subject to state regulation and control, or for other purposes," according to the opinion of the bill.

Sam Venable and the Venable estate offered the scarp of Stone mountain for the carving of a gigantic memorial to Confederate heroes, the option extending seven years. This time limit will expire in about eight months.

The presentation ceremony was over he started back for the hangar so that in case the weather should relent, not a moment might be lost in getting away.

SAVANNAH HOTEL OWNER A SUICIDE

Savannah, Ga., June 22.—(AP)—Ralph F. Hicks, prominent hotel man and owner and proprietor of John Wesley hotel in Savannah, shot himself through the right temple tonight at 9:45 o'clock and died at 11:30 at St. Joseph hospital. The bullet entered the right temple but was pointed forward and came out of the skull to the left of his forehead.

Hicks had left his wife in their sitting room in the bungalow on the roof of the hotel where they made their home and had returned saying "Well, I am going to end it all." Immediately the shot rang out and he fell backwards upon the floor. He had stripped himself and when detectives arrived was lying upon the floor unclothed. Dependence is said to be the cause of the self-inflicted wound.

CHURCHES PLAN LAKEWOOD PARK PICNIC OUTINGS

Lakewood park Friday night will be the rendezvous of Bible class No. 2 and the Woman's league of the Second Baptist church, it was announced Wednesday by Colonel and Mrs. Frederic Paxton, president, respectively, of the two organizations.

A picnic dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock with Mrs. Gus Cooper in charge of arrangements, and a series of entertainment features are on the program which has been prepared.

Plans also are being perfected at the park for the entertainment next week of the Lutheran league and friends of the Church of the Redeemer, of which Dr. Charles P. McLaughlin is pastor.

Several score members of the Church of Epiphany enjoyed an outing at the south's famous recreation resort Wednesday.

SENATE PRESIDENT PRO TEM IS YOUNG ASSEMBLY LEADER

Senator E. D. Rivers, of Lakeland, representing the sixth senatorial district in the state senate this session, was the recipient of numerous congratulations on Wednesday after he had been elected president pro tem of the senate. He was placed in nomination by Senator S. G. Miller and went into his new office without opposition.

The president pro tem is serving his first term in the upper house of the legislature and is considered one of the ablest members of the entire legislature. He served last session on the house of representatives and on account of the splendid record made there he was elected to represent the sixth district to represent them in the upper house for the present session.

In making his inaugural address, Senator Rivers told of the new era that has come to the state and declared, "This session promises to bring forth the most important legislation to come before the Georgia assembly since the war between the states."

Kimball's Lobby Seethes As Solons Assemble Again

Friendships Renewed on Traditional Old Battleground

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Georgia's famed political landmark, the Kimball House, seethed with politicians Wednesday night as the first day's session of the state legislature drew to a close and many of the leading notables of state politics shook hands with each other, told and retold the ancient legislative jokes and recalled the many hard battles that have been fought in the past in the lobby of the hotel.

Since the days of 1870 the Kimball House has served as a haven for the politically inclined and some of the most thrilling chapters of Georgia political history have been written in its spacious corridors. This year the crowd apparently is quieter than usual as no big battles in politics loom ahead but there is a tradition that no one can ever tell what will "break loose" in the hotel when the politicians get together.

This year the old Kimball is as cordial as ever to the legislators and the management is making every possible effort to provide for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors. Emory H. Coppette is semi-official host and he is working night and day to make the stay of the law makers in Atlanta a pleasant one.

Representative Joe E. Davidson, of Peach county, who was responsible for the creation of Georgia's 161st county, is on hand at the legislative session with several bills in his mind which he believes will improve the state government.

Representative Davidson believes that the state public service commission should be revised so that it would consist of three members instead of five as at present. He also believes the expenses of the commission should be paid by the state rather than assessed against public utilities as at present.

There should be three men on the commission; two of them should be paid $7,500 a year and the chairman $10,000 a year, he said. "This would attract the best men to offer for places on this most important board."

Representative Davidson also advocates a plan under which all state money will be collected and disbursed by one department.

John Andrews, who has served as custodian of the state capitol, will retire from this post at the end of his present term, which ends with the term of Governor Clifford Walker, it was learned Wednesday. Governor-elect Hardman will name as his successor W. E. Thurman, a Confederate veteran, of Commerce, Ga., the home town of the new governor.

Mr. Andrews will retire as custodian with one of the best records ever made in that position. He has worked with small appropriations, and has kept the capitol in excellent condition during his term of office and is responsible for many improvements that have been made in the building and grounds. He possesses the warm friendship of every man, woman and child in the state capitol and will leave with the best wishes of every

SENATE ORGANIZES READY FOR DUTIES

BY COMER HOWELL.

Ed B. Dykes, of Vienna, representing the fourteenth district in the Georgia senate, was elected president of that body on the third ballot in a three-cornered "closely-contested" race when the state legislature convened Wednesday morning for its sixty-day session.

He was opposed by Senators S. Morton Turner, of the seventh district, and John L. Kelley, of the fifth district. As four members of the senate were absent on the opening day, only 47 were present to vote for a presiding officer, and a majority of the votes cast were required for election. It was not until the third ballot that Senator Dykes received the necessary number of 24 votes. On this ballot Senator Turner got 17 votes and Senator Kelley 6. When the required number of votes were seen to be in the Dykes list Senator Turner moved that the senate make the election of Senator Dykes "a resolute unanimous" and he was seconded in the motion by the other contestant, Senator Kelley.

The upper house was called to order at 10:25 o'clock by Secretary D. F. McClatchey and at once the work of organization got under way. The entire Wednesday session was occupied by the election of various officers and organization work. However, all of this work was completed, so that when the body met at 11 o'clock this morning it will be in shape to at once launch its legislative program for the session.

Oratorical Flights.

The first order of business was the election of the presiding officer. This ery, and J. B. Davidson, of Peach county. Representative Russell was nominated for his post by Representative Peterson.

Governor-Elect Present.

Governor-elect Hardman was a visitor at the opening of the session. The new governor will assume his duties at noon Saturday when inauguration ceremonies will be held on the lawn of the capitol under the direction of Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, of the state military department.

The opening session was attended by many prominent political leaders from all parts of the state. Galleries of both legislative halls in the capitol were packed with visitors, including a large number of immediate relatives of the solons, who accompanied them here for the formal opening, as well as former representatives and senators who "just couldn't stay away."

Youth Predominates.

Youthful looking solons predominated in number in both houses. The roster of the senate, with its 51 members, revealed but three veterans of the last session, a special one called by Governor Walker last summer. In the lower house, more than half of the 207 members were for the first time experiencing the mixed thrill of pride and responsibility of their office as a representative of the people.

The two houses will meet in joint session Thursday at which time committees from both houses will be appointed to consolidate the votes cast for state officers at last fall's general election, and another joint committee will be assigned to arrange for the inaugural ceremonies of the governor.

While the general assembly has a membership of 258, but one woman occupied a seat today in either hall. She was Miss Bessie Kempton, of Atlanta, representative from Fulton county; Hugh Peterson, of Montgom-brought forth flowery heights of oratory in the nominating and seconding speeches. The successful candidate, Senator A. B. David, of the fifty-third, and seconded by Senators F. M. Greene, A. H. Thompson, Shelby Myrick and John C. Lewis. S. Morton Turner was nominated by Senator Millard Reese, of the fourth, and seconded by Senators Howell, Cone, Joe S. Burdin, T. J. Anderson, J. J. Mangham and A. P. Vason. John L. Kelley was nominated by Senator J. B. Jackson, of the twenty-first, and seconded by Senators J. H. Boykin, H. S. Willingham, H. H. Elders and I. S. Peebles.

On the first ballot the result was: Dykes 22, Turner 18 and Kelley 7. On the second the result was: Dykes 22, Turner 17 and Kelley 8. It was not until the third ballot was held that Dykes got the 24 votes needed to elect. In explaining his vote Mr. Dykes stated that all of the three contestants had decided to vote for themselves as the fairest method of handling a three-cornered race.

After his victory the new president was escorted to his chair by a committee composed of Senators Reese, Elders and Hendrix. He began the election of the other officers.

McClatchey Re-elected.

D. F. McClatchey was nominated for secretary of the senate by Senator H. S. Willingham, and unanimously elected. This makes the thirtieth consecutive year that Mr. McClatchey has efficiently held this position, or that of clerk of the house.

Senator E. D. Rivers, of the sixth district, was unanimously elected president pro tem, after being nominated by Senator S. G. Miller.

A. Perry Griffin, of College Park, was re-elected doorkeeper without opposition, and Colonel A. Strother, a Confederate veteran of Lincoln county, was made messenger. The Rev.

Bigham-Sanford Wedding Is of Cordial Interest

A wedding of unusual interest to a large circle of friends was that of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Bigham and Homer Reynolds Sanford, formerly of Athens, which was solemnized Wednesday evening at the Druid Hills Methodist church. The Rev. R. L. Russell, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a fashionable gathering of relatives and friends.

The church was elaborately decorated in palms, the altar being arranged with large baskets of gladioli alternating with candelabra holding cathedral candles. An attractive program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hodgson.

Bridal Party.
Mrs. Martha Bigham, mother of the bride, who acted as matron of honor, was becomingly gowned in white beaded georgette, carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of sweet peas and snapdragons, which was the bouquet of the entire wedding party. Miss Betty Ault, of Cedarhurst, cousin of the bride, the maid of honor, was lovely in a dainty frock of pink tulle with tulle ruffled skirt.

The bridesmaids were attractive in rainbow shades of tulle made bouffant style, shorter in front than the back, and artistically matched with a full train of deeper shade. Misses Kathryn Johnson and Lelia Elder were charming in green. Misses Rachel Moore and Adelaide McClatchey, of Columbus, wore yellow, and Misses Kathryn Catcliff and Mary Morris completed the rainbow picture with their frocks of orchid. The junior bridesmaids, wearing pink georgette, were Misses Mary Norman, of Dayton, Fla., and Julie McClatchey, Little Misses Ann Norman, Elizabeth and Grace Darling, McClatchey acted as flower girls, wearing dainty frocks of pink georgette trimmed in lace.

The groomsmen were James Calhoun, of Rutherford, N. J., Albert Howell, Sam Weiman and Tom Green, of Atlanta. The ushers included Billy Foster, Carlton Mott, Johnny Whitner, Miller Hamrick and William Beacham, of Athens.

Lovely Bride.
The lovely bride entered with her uncle, G. G. Adams, of Cedarhurst, who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Charles Sanford, brother of the groom. Her radiant beauty was enhanced by a charming gown of white satin, made bouffant style, having a panel of real lace inset in front. Her princess lace veil was caught to her train at the back with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. S. V. Sanford, of Athens, mother of the groom, was gowned in pink georgette, "crepe" offset by a shoulder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

A reception followed the ceremony, given at Mrs. Bigham's home on Stillwood drive, the decorations reflecting a color motif of pink and white in the dining room, the lace-covered table having for a central decoration a plateau of sweet peas, gladioli and roses. Colonial candlesticks held pink tapers tied with silver ribbons. The drawing room, library and sun parlor were adorned with garden flowers and palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford left on a two-week motor trip and on their return will be at home after July 4, at 10 Stillwood drive. The bride's traveling costume was of midnight blue georgette crepe and her smart hat matched her gown.

Mrs. Otley To Honor
Miss Neely and Miss Hayes.
Miss Rachel Neely and her guest, Miss Dorothy Hayes, of Newport, R. I., will be central figures at the swimming party given Saturday morning at the Piedmont Driving Club by Mrs. John K. Otley, and followed by a luncheon.

Before Baby Comes
JUST how to ease much unnecessary suffering for yourself is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, before you have your baby. Learn the truth, before you have your baby, by a simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used "Mother's Friend."

Right now, from this day on, and right on to the day of child birth, "Mother's Friend" should be used. Write Dr. J. B. Russell, 207 E. 12th St., Atlanta, Ga., for free booklet (sent in plain envelope) telling you the exact, expert, mother should know. "Mother's Friend" is sold at all good drug stores. Begin now and you will realize the wisdom of doing so as the weeks roll by!

Miss Kehr Weds James Kirkpatrick In Decatur, Ga.

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the south and east was that of Miss Ruth Eloise Kehr to James Francis Kirkpatrick which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, June 22, at the Decatur Presbyterian church. Dr. D. P. McGeehan officiated, assisted by Dr. J. G. Patton, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bridal procession entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The ushers were Julius Scott, Eugene Tiller, Scott Candler and Ed Jones. The bridesmaids entered in pairs, alternating with the groomsmen. Miss Gladys Malone and Miss Louise Pirle came down separate aisles and took their places at the altar. Miss Malone wore white organdy over turquoise blue tulle, and Miss Pirle wore white organdy over apricot tulle.

The bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth Kehr, followed by Miss Elizabeth Kehr and Mrs. Donald Kirkpatrick, Misses Gladys Malone and Miss Louise Pirle came down separate aisles and took their places at the altar. Miss Malone wore white organdy over turquoise blue tulle, and Miss Pirle wore white organdy over apricot tulle.

The bridesmaids carried colorful bouquets of garden flowers, and wore large white lace hats trimmed with ribbon to match their dresses. The bride and groom were dressed in white. The bride's dress was a smart frock of white organdy over yellow tulle. It was made bouffant, with short underskirt and the overskirt very full, showing an uneven hem line—very long in the back and short in front. The bottom of the organza skirt was scalloped, as was the di-front collar, and the whole was finished by hand-made flowers cascading to the hem of the skirt. Her hat was of white lace and yellow ribbon, and she carried an old-fashioned nosegay of garden flowers.

Miss Mary Grace Kehr, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and preceded her. She was becomingly gowned in a robe de style of lavender tulle, which had the same di-front collar and uneven hem line as those of the bridesmaids. She wore a large yellow hat and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth Kehr, followed by Miss Elizabeth Kehr and Mrs. Donald Kirkpatrick, Misses Gladys Malone and Miss Louise Pirle came down separate aisles and took their places at the altar. Miss Malone wore white organdy over turquoise blue tulle, and Miss Pirle wore white organdy over apricot tulle.

The bride entered with her father, Frank E. Kehr, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Donald Fraser Kirkpatrick. She was exquisite in her bridal gown of white georgette and rose point lace, which was sleeveless and fashioned on lovely girlish lines. The skirt was finished with diamond-shaped panels, which gave it a flaring effect. Her brunette beauty was enhanced by a hat of white georgette and lace, trimmed with white velvet ribbon, and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a platinum and diamond pin, the gift of the groom. A charming gift of sentiment is attached to her handkerchief of antique lace which has been carried by the brides in her family for generations.

On the afternoon of August 13 Mrs. Leonard Norman Walker will give a tulle gown in honor of her daughter. Following the rehearsal on the evening of August 12, at 10 Stillwood drive, the bride's traveling costume was of midnight blue georgette crepe and her smart hat matched her gown.

Other parties to be given for Miss Walker will be announced later.

James de la Fuente
To Give Recital.
James de la Fuente, Atlanta's child artist, will be presented in a concert sponsored by the St. James choir of Marietta, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium at Marietta.

The friends of this talented young violinist are cordially invited to attend. Tickets are 50 cents.

Sigma Chi Phi
Held Meeting.
The Sigma Chi Phi club met Monday afternoon with Anna Bartlett at her home on Spruce street.

The members present were Misses Virginia Pirle, Rowena Wylie, Evelyn Raugh and Miss Bartlett. The pledges selected to be considered at the next meeting are Misses Hortense Jewell, Catherine Gillespie, Dorothy Winn, Margaret Andrews and Helen Walker.

Mrs. G. C. Barthlow
Honors Daughter.
Mrs. George C. Barthlow entertained Tuesday at a tulle gown in honor of her daughter, Miss Hazel Barthlow, inviting a few intimate friends.

Mrs. Barthlow was assisted by Mrs. Sam Bell and Mrs. Rufus Finch.

Rose Tints Mark Setting For Andoe-Weed Wedding

Pink-tinted gladioli and tall pink tapers in floor candelabra formed the beautiful setting of the Andoe-Weed wedding Wednesday evening at the St. Mark Methodist church, when Miss Margaret Andoe became the bride of Guy Wood. Dr. T. R. Kendall performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Hinton Wood, the groom's father, before an assemblage of several hundred friends and relatives.

Preceding the ceremony an appropriate musical program was rendered with Mrs. Paul Bryan acting as organist. Just prior to the entrance of the wedding party, Miss Ruth Smith sang "My Dear" and "For You Alone." The program of music featured Liszt's "Dream of Love," and

For Instant Refreshment When You're All Tired Out

We Americans work too hard. We go too fast. What with business duties, social obligations, family responsibilities, long journeys and short trips at breakneck speed, our minds are weary, our bodies fatigued, our nerves "all on edge."

We are in constant need of cheer, comfort, relaxation, refreshment—and the best way to get it is by stopping for a few minutes, when we're all fagged out, for a steaming cupful of RIDGWAYS fragrant, full-bodied, invigorating tea.

Try it! In two minutes you'll feel like a new person. You'll be revived, comforted, and suffused with a delicious sense of well-being. You'll feel as if you had had a soothing bath of deep, fragrant warmth, with all the after-invigorating of a fine cold shower. You'll feel wonderfully fit and all ready for another session of hard work or hard play. Only be sure to remember this—Get the full benefit of your cup of tea. Get the world-famous flavor and refreshing goodness in our three perfect blends of RIDGWAYS TEAS.

Comedy Program Will Feature Morning Matinee

A melody of comedy characters contrive to make a regular "fun day program" at the children's Saturday morning matinee this week at the Howard theater. Featuring Adolph Menjou as a "Social Celebrity," the main picture will show how a barber contrives to become a celebrity in the social world, with many laughable incidents on the way. Louise Brooks assists in the fun. Other jokers are an "Animated Hair Cartoon," featuring such favorites as "Mutt and Jeff" and "Easter Brown and Tize," while the "Real News" shows how wild animals are trained and customs in foreign lands. The regular admission will be charged, 10 cents for juniors and 25 cents for adults.

A prologue number well above the average will be given under the direction of Miss Virginia Semon, who will use several of her choicest dancing numbers to give distinction to the program.

The chapter-12 committee of the better films committee, 10 Boy Scouts and 10 Girl Scouts, will assist the better films mothers and their chapter chairman, Mrs. J. H. G. Courtney. Colored nursemaids will be admitted also.

Miss O'Donnel Is Feted Visitor.

A social event of Tuesday afternoon was the bridge-tee at which Miss Zelda Webb entertained at her home on Austin avenue in honor of her guest, Miss Evelyn O'Donnel, of Lakeland, Fla.

Gladioli and other garden flowers adorned the rooms where the game was played. The prizes were attractive novelties. At the conclusion of the game tea was served at the card tables.

Miss Webb was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Olive Webb.

Visiting Delegates Honored at Banquet.

Visiting delegates attending the annual convention of the International Circulation Managers association at the Atlanta-Biltmore were honored Wednesday evening at a banquet followed by a dance in the ballroom of the hotel.

Attending the affair were several hundred visiting delegates and their friends.

Mrs. Horace Williams Honored at Marietta.

Marietta, June 22.—The social calendar for this week is filled with parties and luncheons in compliment to Mrs. Horace Williams, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who is visiting Mrs. Arthur Williams on Church street.

Mrs. Price-Smith Honors Mrs. Little.

A "bon voyage" luncheon in compliment to Mrs. John D. Little, on the eve of her departure for Europe, was given Wednesday by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, in the palm room of the Atlanta Woman's club. Sprays of pink and white ramblers roses and maiden-hair fern carried out the color motif of white and green, with rose-pink being emphasized in the decorations of the beautiful table. Cucumber boats in which the salad was served and the ice frozen in the shape of little sailing vessels, topped with the flag of the state of Georgia, also carried out the idea of the ocean journey of the honoree.

Invited to meet Mrs. Little were Mesdames Clifford Walker, John K. Little, Bolling Jones, Robert F. Maddox, Wilmer Moore, Hugh Richardson, Price Gilbert, John E. Murphy, John Grant, Preston Arkwright, Hollins Randolph, Robert Smythe, Charles Conklin, John Owens, E. P. McBurney, John M. Slaton and Robert C. Alston.

Miss Smith Weds Aubrey Johnson at Home Ceremony

A beautiful wedding of Wednesday evening was that of Miss Marion Smith and Aubrey Johnson, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. L. Barrett, 1207 Ponce de Leon avenue. Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends.

Entering first were Mrs. John Daniel and Miss Fay Logan, ribbon bearers, who formed the pathway of the bride to the elaborately decorated gate with streamers of green tulle. They wore green tulle frocks made bouffant style and carried bouquets of pink roses.

Mrs. Denard Henderson, of Miami, Fla., sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, her only attendant, was attractive in a gown of white crepe and lace which was artistically offset with a bouquet of pink roses and snapdragons.

Little Miss Alice Barrett, niece of the bride, and Betty Smart, niece of the groom, acted as flower girls, wearing white net frocks over green silk slips. Little "Cecieve" Barrett, ring-bearer, wearing a frock of the same design and shade, bore the ring on a white satin pillow showered with orange blossoms.

Entering with her father, Sidney D. Smith, who gave her in marriage, the bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Alton Farris. The natural beauty of the bride was enhanced by her wedding robes of white satin trimmed in rhinestones and seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley. A bit of sentiment is attached to her becoming bridal veil, which had been worn by her sisters, Mrs. C. L. Barrett and Mrs. Denard Henderson, of Miami, at their weddings.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of Mrs. Barrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left afterward for a motor trip through North Carolina. They will be home to their friends after July 1 at 1008 North avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Symmers Give Theater Party.

Symmers entertained at a theater party at the Georgia Tuesday evening complimentary Miss Elizabeth Broughton and Charles Peace, whose wedding will be an event of Thursday evening. After the performance the party was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Symmers on Reeder circle.

Eight in 10 better-class women now use "Kotex."

Discards like tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Deodorizes, thus ending all danger of offending.

Obtainable at all drug and department stores simply by saying "Kotex." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex. In fairness to yourself, try it.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker To Be Honored At Reception

The members of St. Philip's cathedral and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker are cordially invited to a farewell reception in their honor Thursday evening, June 23, at 8 o'clock at the home of Dean and Mrs. Thomas H. Johnston, 1165 St. Charles place, N. E. No formal invitations have been issued.

Mr. Parker has served as assistant to Dean Johnston for seven years and will have charge of three Georgia missions located at Washington, Elberton and Greensboro, leaving Atlanta July 2 to take up his duties at these points.

RAIN NOT ENDED, DESPITE BIG FALL, SAYS WEATHERMAN

"Georgia is pretty well soaked," admitted Weatherman C. F. von Herrmann late Wednesday, "and that is all."

Thursday will bring additional rainfall, light and scattered showers, perhaps, but none the less wet.

More than one-third of an inch of rain fell on Atlanta during the past 24 hours, with another such quota in prospect for today, the weather chief said.

From a low mark of 60 early Wednesday, the mercury touched a high point of 84 at mid-afternoon, while today's temperatures should vary little from these extremes.

Unsettled, rainy weather prevails over the greater part of the southeast with no change in sight, Mr. von Herrmann said.

LIMIT ON RECRUITS FOR NAVY LIFTED

From current date until June 30 the local navy recruiting office will accept all applicants for entry up to requirements, according to Lieutenant W. L. Travis, in charge of the recruiting station in the postoffice building.

The order, received Wednesday from the navy department, cancels previous orders assigning a quota of but 8 recruits a week to the Atlanta district, which includes the states of Georgia and Florida.

Lieutenant Travis requests all those whose names are on the waiting list to report immediately at the office, 503 postoffice building.

TUGGLE PRESIDENT GROVE PARK LEAGUE

Jason A. Tuggle was elected president of the Grove Park Civic league at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Bethany Methodist church. Other officers and agents alike must qualify to hold their positions.

Nature of the questions asked was withheld because the same examination may be used elsewhere, it was explained.

NEW HAMMOND TRIAL PLEA SENT TO WOOD

Motion for a new trial for Harold Hammond, under sentence of death in the electric chair on July 1 for the murders of Mrs. Lottie Bell Ingram and her infant son, was sent Wednesday to Canton, Ga., to be filed with Judge John S. Wood, of the Blue Ridge circuit, who presided at the trial in Fulton superior court.

A date for hearing on the motion will be set by Judge Wood when the "skeleton motion" is received by him. The motion as sent does not set out the specific grounds for the new trial but will be amended before the date of the hearing.

Harold E. Roland and H. L. McGriff, defense counsel, said Wednesday.

WILLIAM S. HOWARD RETURNS TO OFFICE

None the worse for an attack of influenza, William Schley Howard, well-known Atlanta attorney and member of the Branch and Howard law firm, was back at his desk Wednesday after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Howard suffered his attack shortly after the trial and conviction of Jack Lance, for whom he was defense counsel. The attorney Wednesday predicted an early move in the Lance case.

Lance was sentenced to die in the electric chair this month in connection with the death of Bert Donaldson, criminal investigator, but a stay of execution followed motion for a new trial.

Beavers Back on Job.

Greatly refreshed by a vacation trip to Toronto, Canada, where he attended the convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs, James L. Beavers, chief of police, returned to his desk Wednesday. Chief Beavers was elected vice president of the association at the convention.

denice of William L. Shearer, Jr., vice president of the Pine Furniture company, on Bay State road, in the Back Bay district, early today.

The dead: Janet Shearer, 19, daughter of Mr. Shearer.

Bettie Howes, 16, daughter of Henry Howes, of Boston.

Alice Scott, 32, housemaid.

Helen McLaughlin, cook.

Impetus was given the proposed extension of Broad street to its present terminus at the intersection of Whitehall and Forsyth streets Wednesday when the city government, the Atlanta Improvement and other associations joined in a move designed to push the improvement to early completion.

The Atlanta real estate board was asked to appraise property in the affected area. J. Lawrence McCord appointed agent to negotiate for options of property necessary to make the 50-foot traffic artery and the county requested to join in the project.

These actions were taken at a meeting of a special council committee of city council members to accelerate completion of the proposal, and a number of influential Atlantans appeared, making suggestions and offering their services.

Mayor I. N. Hazenle expressed approval of the plan and declared he hoped council will be able to provide $10,000 to secure options.

Among prominent Atlantans present were Harry English, C. H. Johnson, Mrs. Henry Hurt, Frank G. Lake, D. Knight, president of the improvement association, and Ward Wright.

Members of the council committee present in addition to Mr. Ford were Councilman Howard C. McIntosh, of the second ward, and Councilman Willie L. Moore, of the seventh.

Impetus was given the proposed extension of Broad street to its present terminus at the intersection of Whitehall and Forsyth streets Wednesday when the city government, the Atlanta Improvement and other associations joined in a move designed to push the improvement to early completion.

The Atlanta real estate board was asked to appraise property in the affected area. J. Lawrence McCord appointed agent to negotiate for options of property necessary to make the 50-foot traffic artery and the county requested to join in the project.

These actions were taken at a meeting of a special council committee of city council members to accelerate completion of the proposal, and a number of influential Atlantans appeared, making suggestions and offering their services.

Mayor I. N. Hazenle expressed approval of the plan and declared he hoped council will be able to provide $10,000 to secure options.

Among prominent Atlantans present were Harry English, C. H. Johnson, Mrs. Henry Hurt, Frank G. Lake, D. Knight, president of the improvement association, and Ward Wright.

Members of the council committee present in addition to Mr. Ford were Councilman Howard C. McIntosh, of the second ward, and Councilman Willie L. Moore, of the seventh.

FOUR WOMEN DIE IN BOSTON FIRE

Boston, June 22.—(P)—Four deaths resulted from a fire which destroyed the four-story brick and stone residence of William L. Shearer, Jr., vice president of the Pine Furniture company, on Bay State road, in the Back Bay district, early today.

The dead: Janet Shearer, 19, daughter of Mr. Shearer.

Bettie Howes, 16, daughter of Henry Howes, of Boston.

Alice Scott, 32, housemaid.

Helen McLaughlin, cook.

ATLANTA IS SEEN PACKING CENTER

Atlanta is destined to be the center of a meat packing industry that will make it the Chicago of the southeast. That was the statement made Wednesday afternoon by Lorenz Neuhoff, Sr., who recently came to Atlanta from Nashville, Tenn., to become president of the White Provision company, incorporated, successor to the former White Provision company, the largest complete meat packing organization in the south.

"In the cow, hog and hen movement now spreading throughout Georgia can be found the basis for the predicted future growth of Atlanta into a large meat packing center," Mr. Neuhoff stated.

The natural location of Atlanta with its many physical advantages, provides everything that is needed for creating such a center and its present growth along these lines has been hindered only by the one crop idea that farmers of Georgia have fostered heretofore.

Mr. Neuhoff is one of the foremost independent meat packers of the country. Until he came to Atlanta recently, he was associated with his brother in the Neuhoff Packing company, at Nashville. With the purchase

Free Lance Fliers Spurn Prizes For Hop To Hawaii

San Francisco, June 22.—(P)—Interest in the coming aerial races over the Pacific centered today on those who will spurn the chance to compete in prize offers aggregating $100,000 and hop off ahead of pre-arranged contest dates in pursuit of the glory and adventure that will fall to the first to fly to Hawaii or the Orient.

Besides Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and A. F. Hegenberger, army aviators, now in San Diego preparing for the Honolulu hop, there are at least two flying free lance who are saving little but saving much wood. Army regulations prevent Maitland and Hegenberger from participating in a prize contest.

Untrammelled by fixed hop-off dates and contest regulations, Ernest L. Smith, local pilot, expects to start here next week for Honolulu. Apparently he is the first threat from this side of the Pacific. Lt. Richard Grace, Oakland aviator, is aboard the steamer Mahanui, which will reach Honolulu Friday. Supposedly Grace has a plane, built in Oakland, with which he expects to fly back. Preparations for this flight have been surrounded by the greatest secrecy.

Their free lance is B. H. Griffith. "Hegenberger and I have so com- ated our charts that we will know by pre-computation exactly where we are while in flight," said Lieutenant Maitland. "In other words, we won't have to pore over charts to figure out our latitude and longitude."

The cabin of the big monoplane resembles a combined meteorological, aerological and navigation room, so completely is it equipped with scientific instruments.

During the next week Maitland and Hegenberger will make a number of night flights to test their several compasses.

The sudden impetus given to the Pacific conquest threatens to furnish some inconveniences to those who might arrive in the Hawaiian islands in advance of reception schedules, because of the shortage of landing facilities and arrangements for escorting them toward their goal.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin editorially expressed fear that if the aviators reached the islands before the scheduled time they would be in the position of guests who arrive before they are invited, finding their hosts unprepared to receive them.

"Under all these circumstances, we cannot encourage an effort to make a flight here before the official sanctioned contest for the Dole prizes is open. It is, to be frank, a bit unsportsmanlike for an aviator to try it," the paper said.

The entrance in the $25,000 contest, promoted by James D. Dole, pineapple king, must not start before August 12.

Herrick On Way Home.

Paris, June 22.—(P)—Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador to France, is on his way home. The ambassador will take up with the government at Washington the proposed Franco-American treaty to make war impossible between the two countries.

of controlling interest in the White Provision company by the Nashville concern, Mr. Neuhoff came to take charge of the Atlanta organization, while his brother remained in charge of the Nashville plant.

Mr. Neuhoff visited Atlanta 14 years ago and was astounded by the city's growth witnessed on his recent arrival. He expressed considerable satisfaction at the location of the newly purchased plant in Atlanta and will make this his permanent residence.

His family, consisting of his wife, three daughters and two sons, is expected to arrive here Saturday. They will move into a home in Garden Hills. His two sons, Arthur Neuhoff, 25, and Lorenz Neuhoff, Jr., 21, will aid him in management of the local plant.

INSTALLMENT LXIV.

A FEELING OF GUILT.

Cissy, peeping from behind the curtains, announced him over her shoulder with an exclamation of, "Good gracious, speaking of the devil, here he is!"

Willie's mouth set grimly. "I'll have a word with him—"

"No, stay where you are," Cissy said decisively.

She hurried to the door and opened it before the visitor could knock.

"So you got back all right," the old man said, his heavy-lidded eyes gleaming palely like a cat's in the bright moonlight. "Really, Cissy, your behavior was extraordinary—running off like that."

"Yes, it wasn't very nice of me," she agreed, "but I just happened to remember an important engagement I had somewhere else."

He came closer to her and would have taken her hand, but she moved back sharply.

"You didn't hear me out," he said. "Silly girl! Of course a wedding ring goes with that charming little house I want to give you—and for what it's worth, a coronet."

"I!" exclaimed Cissy.

"Makes a difference, doesn't it?" Landell insisted. He felt nervous and foolish, wondering if the chauffeur could overhear all this. "Won't you let me come inside?"

"No, not tonight," Cissy said gently. "I'm afraid it doesn't make any difference at all, Lord Landell, because you see, I'm going to marry your son."

"My—my what?" he cried angrily.

"Mr. Mopet, then—if it sounds better to you, I guessed almost from the first that he was your son. However, I like him just the same. I don't think about him being your son any more than I can help. Well, you may come in, if you like. Willie's in the parlor. Perhaps you'd want to congratulate him."

"Thank you—I think not," said his lordship, hastily turning on his heel.

Cissy gave his departing back a limp wave of the hand, and then returned to her lover.

Little by little, so slowly as to be almost imperceptible, Piers Tancred was recovering. He could move the fingers of his left hand, now, and make sounds of assent or, as more frequently, of disapproval. Life was creeping back into that great body which such a short time ago had been all but a senseless hulk.

Sophy prayed not to be afraid. Every day when Piers was wheeled out in his chair for a couple of hours she would force herself to sit near him and discuss his marvelous progress with George Cantle. She tried to be gay and cheerful, and play the ever-hopeful wife with a semblance of sincerity, but she felt that Piers saw through her, straight through to the almighty fear in her heart.

Sometimes he could be induced to converse briefly by indicating letters of the alphabet, which Cantle had written on a card, but he made a brutal point of never having anything to say to Sophy, and whenever she addressed him, he behaved as if he were deaf. Occasionally he would go to the length of insulting her by spelling out to Cantle, "Send that woman away!" or it might be, "Turn my chair," indicating that he wished to sit with his back to Sophy.

And always she was saying to herself, "I've got to learn to love Piers. Being sorry isn't enough. I've got to really love him."

That fear—that knowledge of his hatred for her—the feeling of certainty that his powerful will was bent to but one purpose, to torture if not actually destroy her, hung over her like a pall. He wanted to get well, he meant to get well for just one purpose. Something besides mere time was moving in that cloistered garden, and it emanated from the paralyzed man in the wheel chair.

One afternoon Cantle came to Sophy when she was alone, and boldly opened the subject which lay so oppressively on her consciousness.

"Mr. Tancred's on the mend," said Cantle, "but he ain't moving fast enough for him—dye see? Seems as if he can't bear just sitting tight and letting it come gradual. Spelt out to me this mornin' about what that Paris specialist said."

Sophy, her hands trembling over the eternal knitting, asked: "Just what did Mr. Meyer say?"

"He says," said Cantle, "that you mean about that new serum for spinal injections?"

"Yes, ma'am," Cantle shook his head, and the red in his eye gave him a reflective expression. "Of course I don't know nothing much about it, but in one way and another I've seen a lot of those kind o' cases, and I'd say that Mr. Tancred would do better going slow but sure, like he is doing. My experience is that when you rush nature you pay for it. For one short cut to health, I'd say there was a dozen to heaven, and not easy to tell which is going to be which. But that's only my opinion. I wish you'd talk to Mr. Tancred, ma'am."

"I talk to him," Sophy laughed bitterly. "Why, Cantle, you must know—you must have seen that my husband doesn't like me—to bother him about anything."

"Yes, ma'am, I have seen, but that doesn't matter. He wants me to make arrangements for him to be taken to Paris. It's got as far as that. Spelt out 'aeroplane' and 'tomorrow'."

Sophy rose in consternation. "But of course, that's impossible. You better send for Dr. Ferrari—"

"Oh, him?" Cantle was amiably contemptuous. "Mr. Tancred won't be stopped—unless you stop him, ma'am. The doctors are all for trying that serum, and he's made up his mind he wants it."

"Very well, I'll speak to Mr. Tancred," she said hurriedly.

She went slowly towards the house, a very heavy feeling of guilt dragging at her heart.

Did she want Piers to get well... quickly? No, she didn't, and she knew that if the big doctors advised this treatment there was more than an even chance of success. Anyway, Cantle's opinion could scarcely count against theirs. Perhaps, even, Cantle was in secret sympathy with her feeling about Piers, and understood the terrible dread under which she labored. Virtually he had advised her to urge Piers not to have the treatment.

She went up to the big bedroom from which everything had been stripped except a few hospital necessities, hoping to find Piers asleep, but he wasn't. He lay there like a log on the white iron cot, his eyes fixed on the door, for he had heard her step and recognized it. She had been in this room only a couple of times since his stroke, and very likely he guessed what her errand was.

A sudden panic seized her as those terrible eyes gripped her. Suppose he was shamming and had schemed to get her here alone...

But no, it was all right. His mouth was set in a sneering smile as though he were reading her mind.

"Piers, Cantle tells me you want to be taken to Paris and have that treatment Dr. Mercier recommended," she began breathlessly.

The Bombardment of Fort Jackson.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE FIRING WAS KEPT UP FOR SIX DAYS,
DURING WHICH TIME THE MORTAR FLEET
HURLED 16,800 PROJECTILES AT THE CON-
FEDERATES. THE UNION FIRE CREATED HAVOC
WITHIN THE WALLS, BUT THE GUNS OF THE FORT REPLIED BRAVELY, SINKING ONE OF THE SCHOONERS.

BY APRIL 20TH IT WAS EVIDENT THAT AN EARLY SURRENDER OF THE FORTS WAS NOT TO BE EXPECTED AND FARRAGUT CALLED A COUN-CIL OF WAR ABOARD THE FLAGSHIP. IT WAS DECIDED THAT THE FLEET SHOULD MAKE A DASH
UP THE RIVER PAST THE FORTS, LEAVING THEM TO BE TAKEN BY PORTER AND BUTLER, AND SEIZE NEW ORLEANS.

TOMORROW—FARRAGUT PREPARES TO ANSWER.
